A beautiful rustic country house that has been renovated to an exceptionally high standard, located just 5 minutes from the historic town of Alora and just 15 minutes from El Chorro, and ever popular destination for tourists with the recently opened Caminito del Rey. The original house is over 150 years old and on a large plot of land planted with olive trees of 48,000 m²s. It is excellent sloping land and fenced and gated all round. The land could be used in a number of ways such as further trees or the addition of yurts for rental potential. The main house consists of three bedrooms and three bathrooms. The property is full of character with excellent terrace spaces to relax and enjoy the wonderful climate. The original character of the property has certainly been retained by the current owners. It would be possible to separate the house to create a further guest apartment. The property has been extended with full legal paperwork to add separate guest accommodation with a long sun terrace and covered porch which is south east facing. The guest accommodation is totally self-contained and has two bedrooms, two bathrooms, a large 50sqm open plan sitting/dining/kitchen area with vaulted beamed ceiling and wonderful wood burner. The land is nicely landscaped...
